For vocabulary practice, after a couple days of exposure to the vocabulary words, students take the practice in the first column and translate the words. Then, the class average is recorded on the board and individual scores in students' self-assessment packets. If the class average is below 80%, a few days later the students will take the second column practice by folding their paper on the first dotted line and by bringing the fold to the solid line. The process repeats for the third column.
